

THE STRATFORD WAY 1971-'72

DEDICATION

Two great wooden doors stand boldly between two different worlds - the world outside and the world of Stratford Junior High.

Many students have come and gone through these doors. As each new class of 7's enters this strange and bewildering world of Stratford, little do they realize what a change in their lives the next three years will make. But all who enter are young and curious. All of them are seeking that knowledge which will help lead them through life. When they leave, they leave with fresh ideas and good patterns of thought. The Grads of Stratford will help carve the future of the great Canadian Society.

But as our students go through the great wooden doors, back to the outside world, their shouts and laughter still echo through our halls; their spirit is still felt in our classroom. Schools are for students and students make a school. The Grads of Stratford have made a good school. In appreciation of the legacy they have left us, we the present students, dedicate this yearbook to the Grads of Stratford Junior High.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Many centuries ago the Romans built a great military highway across Italy. It was built with successive layers of boulders and rocks and paved with slabs of stone. For more than two thousand years it carried the traffic of man and beast and the commerce of the world. The "Appian Way" as it was called, is a monument to the durable construction which its Roman engineers built into it.

In June 1968, the first class which had taken all its Junior High School in Stratford graduated. In June 1972, the fifth class will graduate from Stratford Junior High School. Hopefully, they will be exponents of the "Stratford Way" of living and learning.

Education is a way - a scientific way of solving problems. It is a way of life. When opportunities arise in daily living, our past experience, our learning, and the application of our knowledge opens the way to success. Too often success is equated with what we have in worldly goods. It should mean living with people to their mutual benefit and satisfaction. Life is what we are, not what we have. Many centuries ago, the greatest teacher of us all said, "I am the way, the truth and the life." Let us hope that the Stratford Way will lead us to a good life, with justice and consideration one for the other.

PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE

During the past three years at Stratford, we have met many new challenges. As students in Grade Seven, we felt alone and frightened. It was not long, however, before we became aware of the friendliness and new interests that surrounded us. We vividly remember the excitement of cheering the school teams; the challenge of competing in the contests of the festive Muk-Luk carnivals and the fun we all had at our school dances. Not to be forgotten are the many fine bands and the interesting clubs in which many of the students have participated.

Though sportsmanship and fun have figured prominently in our extra-curricular activities, we are all aware that Stratford has a high standard of learning and achievement. We owe so much to the teaching staff of this school who work so tirelessly to prepare us for our future years. Thank you for your help.

I was deeply honoured when the student body elected me to the office of president of the Student Union. This position carries much responsibility but also gives me much satisfaction and enjoyment. May my successor find this task as interesting as I do.

As we prepare to leave Stratford, we find we have mixed feelings. It is with eagerness that we look forward to the new challenges that await us. It is with sadness that we say good-bye to the familiar world of Stratford. To those who follow, we wish you lots of fun and many friends. We also ask that you keep bright the traditions and spirit of learning at Stratford.

Education for the Future - Rob Hayward, 9E

Are you suffering from adaptability disrhythmia? You may be and not even know it!.....

Adaptability disrhythmia is the shattering stress and disorientation that we induce in individuals by subjecting them to too much change in too short a period of time. In other words, it is the disease of change.....

The education of our youth may be compared to building a rocket to land in the future. In the quickening race to put men and machines on the planets, tremendous resources are devoted to making a soft landing possible. Every subsystem of the landing craft is exquisitely designed to withstand the shock of arrival. Armies of engineers, physicists, geologists and other specialists concentrate years of work on the problem of landing impact.....

Today, one billion human beings, the total population of the technologically rich nations are speeding towards a rendezvous with super-industrialism. Must they experience mass adaptability disrhythmia? Or can they too achieve a soft landing?.....The whole idea of assembling masses of students (raw material) to be processed by teachers (workers) in a centrally located school (factory), must change. We must get away from the regimentation, the lack of individuality, the hypocrisy, the rigid systems of seating, grouping, grading and marking, and the authoritarian role of the teacher!

To help avert massive adaptational breakdowns, we must create a super-industrial education system. To do this, we must search for our objectives and methods in the future rather than in the past. We must shift education into the future tense, but remember - Procrastination is the thief of time!
